

Form B: Continuing Professional Development

You must fill this form out and send it back with your re-registration form if you want your contact information to be listed on the Bach Centre referral lists (including the web site list). There is no need to write a separate report. The Bach Centre will only refer clients to practitioners who complete this form.

Guidelines on Continuing Professional Development (CPD) in the context of your work as a practitioner can be found on the Bach Centre web site at www.bachcentre.com/found/guide

Section ONE: personal details and statement:

Your full name: _____

Your registration PIN (shown on your Certificate of Registration): _____

The information on this form is supplied by me in good faith. It is accurate and gives some indication of my continuing professional development as a Bach Foundation Registered Practitioner over the past twelve months. I understand that the Bach Centre will keep this information strictly private and that no other use will be made of it without my prior and express permission.

Signed: _____

Date: _____

Section TWO: personal development:

Looking back over the period since you last renewed your registration, please give a short account of one or more occasions when you feel you personally grew and developed, either as a result of taking remedies, or by meeting some personal challenge or goal.

Section THREE: knowledge of the system:

Please describe one or more insights into Dr Bach's system that you have gained since you last renewed, and the circumstances in which that insight came about. (For example, your might have learned more about Larch on a course, or revised your understanding of the system through reading or studying, or gained insight from work with a client or through the insight of a friend or colleague.)

Section FOUR: skills development / professional development:

Please describe one or more improvements that you have made to your professional skills or organisation during this period, and the event or circumstances that led to that improvement.